ARCH 490 Issues & Practices
Instructor: Ying Tan

This studio based course aims to explore data visualization in the context of art and design practice. We will examine how contemporary designers and artists worldwide working with data for discovery, communications, and art making. Students will research and develop art and design projects based on quantified personal, public, and/or crowd-sourced data.